Imagine Main Street Hosts Art, Displays, Tastings In Downtown Manchester Thursday

Imagine Main Street continues its spotlight on the arts downtown with displays, tastings, a theater performance and other activities Thursday.

The group’s mission, according to a news release, “is to incorporate the rich cultural and historic heritage of Manchester with a new and creative arts culture.”

Events are scheduled from 6-9 p.m. Program highlights are focused on the Johnson Block, 687 through 705 Main St. The large commercial and residential building was sold in the spring to Netz-Manchester LLC, part of New Haven-based Mandy Management. The new owners plan to spend about $350,000 on repairs, mostly to the 27 apartments, a company representative has said.

Imagine Main Street plans to use vacant storefronts in the Johnson Block for events Thursday, which are to include a “Bumper to Bumper Automobile Art Gallery,” a tasting of locally-made Onyx Moonshine, an art and artisan display and sale, a chocolate tasting by Aruna Chocolates, music, wine and a presentation by the Little Theatre of Manchester. Attendees are encouraged to visit local restaurants for Imagine specials and visit downtown businesses open that evening.

This event is being coordinated with the 2012 Beller’s Music Summer Concert Series in Center Memorial Park. Music in the park Thursday features The 9th Wave, an East Coast instrumental surf rock group.

Imagine Main Street is a collaboration of representatives from the town, Manchester Community College, the Downtown Special Services District, local business owners, non-profit organizations, artists and involved citizens.
